Greetings all,
Apologies for not having a newsletter last week, with so many of our students away on school camp we decided to hold over the newsletter until this week.

Well done to all of our year 2-7 students for the manner in which they conducted themselves on camp last week. It is a credit to you as parents that your children are able to maintain such high standards of behaviour whilst away from their normal home environment. The time on camp disappeared very rapidly and all of the children thoroughly enjoyed themselves. The highlight for me personally was seeing the sense of achievement on students’ faces when they had conquered a new challenge. We have attached a sheet of camp photos to today’s newsletter for parents to see firsthand some of the activities that the children completed.

Our small schools swimming carnival –between Amamoor, Dagun and Kandanga—will be held on Friday the 28th November. There will be races for all ages and abilities. We encourage parents to come along and support our school.

We have now received the final set of results (Mathematics) from the ICAS Academic competition that many of our students entered this year. Well done to Daimon for achieving a Distinction (being in the top 10% of Queensland students) and a hearty congratulations to Alex for achieving a High Distinction and scoring the highest mark out of all year 5 students in Queensland.
Bug Party

In 2 weeks, on Thursday 27th November, the Preps, Year 1’s, younger siblings and new 2015 Preps are invited to a 'Bug Party'. The event will take place after school at 3.00pm until 7.30 pm. Chris Collin, a local author of the story 'Doug the Bug' will be visiting along with Doug the Bug and some of his 'native Australian bug friends'. Chris will entertain the students from 3.00 until 4.30. Chris will also be signing copies of his book and his merchandise can be ordered via the order form. Following this, the students will have a meal (provided) with their friends and they will watching a ‘buggy’ movie with their friends. The students have also been asked to dress as their favourite bug!! Please speak to Miss Hunter for further information.

Outstanding Invoices

Invoices were issued to those parents who still owe money for swimming in term 4 and also for camp. Please could you send along your payment as soon as possible. Thanks.

Rattler Fundraiser

Don’t forget the Community BBQ which will be operating every Wednesday afternoon between 5:00pm and 6:30pm at the BBQ near the Kandanga Pool.

Book Sale

Just a reminder that the final day to pay for any books on hold from our book sale will be Monday morning. Please could you make sure that all money is received at the office by Monday morning Thanks.
